

Testimonies from 2009

“Living Waters invokes the scripture and the testimony that brings the revelation that from those darkest of places where we have become hopelessly imprisoned there is a way back to what was written off as irretrievably lost long ago.” (Ed)

“I had come with a desire for a deeper revelation of my true identity as a beloved daughter of the King of Kings, and to seek God as Father in core areas of myself where my heart was broken and I hadn't been able to respond to and receive his love. Under what can only be described as a tangible 'banner of love' God began to answer my prayers. As I was able to open my heart to Jesus, he met me in these places of desolation and loss and poured in his healing salve.” (Rachel)

“Going on the Healing Week in 2009 has totally changed my life and my relationship with my Heavenly Father. I came to the week, not thinking I had much that needed sorting out, but God very gently started to deal with the pain and hurt I had suppressed for years. As the week progressed I came to the realisation that I couldn't cope with this brokenness and pain on my own, and I needed God to come into this space and rescue me. For the first time I've experienced the tangible love of God in my life, a love that is unconditional and knows no bounds.” (Jon)

“After a lifetime of depression and despair, I felt isolated with my struggle with same sex attraction which was unacceptable to me because of my Christian beliefs. For the first time ever I felt there were people who understood and cared with the same respect for what I believed, and who came along side me with compassion, support, teaching, and prayer in a non-judgemental way.” (Helen)

- Our families of origin & our primal wounds.
- Our need for God as Father.
- Healing our masculine and feminine.
- Dealing with shame.
- Gender insecurity / confusion.
- The cross & forgiveness.

Training afternoon 21st August

Participating in the Healing Week is training in itself. However, for those wanting to run one of our programmes for themselves, we are also offering an afternoon of extra training on the mechanics of this. Completion of the week and the afternoon does not guarantee our permission to run a programme. Further discussion will be needed about your plans.
